Stiegmeyer presents a lot of new products and innovations at the Altenpflege (geriatric care) fair in Nuremberg

A visit to Stiegmeyer at the Altenpflege fair in Nuremberg, Germany, is worthwhile this year for many reasons. We look forward to inspiring our customers with innovations that will set trends for nursing care of the future. At the centre of attention is the new Vario-Safe system.

The details and many strong benefits of Vario Safe will be revealed at the fair. Only so much is revealed: It is a system that easily adapts our care beds to changing requirements in a very short time – both functionally and visually. Residents, carers and nursing home managers benefit from it. Vario Safe ensures more quality of life, noticeable relief and more economical work. Look forward to a vivid, entertaining presentation in Nuremberg.

The low-height bed Venta combines the best conditions for modern care with elegant comfort – here in white chalk.

Modern stand architecture

Our newly designed stand also contributes to the positive atmosphere. Our care beds and furniture really come into their own surrounded by its modern, elegant architecture. Touch-screen monitors and large-screen LED presentations provide all information about the products even faster and more memorable.

Perfect conditions for getting to know our care beds Venta, Elvido and Libra. All of them, as low-height beds with modern safety sides, protect the residents while promoting their mobility. The innovative safety side of the Venta can be operated with one hand and thus spares the caregiver a lot of effort in tense situations. Optional removable head and footboards and an easily used bed extension ensure flexibility in nursing care. And the elegant selectable softcovers for the head and footboards create a home-like atmosphere for every taste.

Discover the care bed Libra

The versatile Libra succeeds the Soleo in the German market and sets convincing accents. There are three safety sides to choose from: the full-length for maximum protection, the combinable safety side with its practical mobilisation aid and the split safety side. In the latter, the single elements can be pulled up in two steps, so that the protection and orientation needs of the resident can be met individually.

Tailor-made contract furniture from Stiegmeyer is an ideal complement to our beds, bedside cabinets or chairs. They give residents', service and common rooms the flair and functionality of a good hotel. At the Altenpflege fair, visitors can find out how our contract furniture team from Nordhausen plans with millimetre precision and creates impressive room furnishings from a single source. In this setting, our lifestyle bed suite eMotion will also fully show its advantages. The suite eMotion combines the highest quality of life and sleep with a rousing design.

There is so much to discover in Hall 9, at Stand D09. The Stiegmeyer team is looking forward to your visit in Nuremberg from 2 to 4 April.
